

Barry Reynolds on the Pike Line

*“Pike flies can be quite large and difficult to cast especially once they become water laden. Mix in a little wind and casting these large, air-resistant flies at any distance becomes a challenge for even the most advanced caster. Rio’s Pike Line with its radically aggressive front taper allows for easy turnover of even the largest and most wind resistant of flies. Additionally the super slick coating on these lines provides superior shootability! Last but not least, the welded loops provide for quick and easy leader change. I spend a great of my fishing year in pursuit of trophy pike in some of the most remote locations of the world, when I spool up for “esox lucius” I always make sure its with a Rio Pike Line!”*
