

Jeff Currier on the Trout LT Fly Line

“RIO's new Trout LT fly line has quickly become my favorite fly line for fishing small flies. I spend countless hours stalking hawg rainbows on the Ranch of the Henry's Fork. Here, turning over long leaders with a tiny dry fly is commonplace. My presentation must be nearly perfect on the first cast or chances of fooling these selective trout drops considerably.

The Trout LT line is the first step towards a flawless presentation. Its long delicate front taper allows me to land the line softly and go unnoticed by a wary trout. When a recast is needed the line lifts off the water quietly, something many fly lines lack the ability to do. Best of all the memory free Agent X coating and the XS Technology makes the line float high and helps it slide through the guides effortlessly. This is not only good for casting, but also for feeding line and fly downstream to a rising trout in a near impossible to catch location. I can't think of another line I'd rather be fishing when the trout of a lifetime is feeding in casting range!”
